If so, please read through the most common questions related to unclaimed capital credits before calling Carroll Electric.

Why does my name appear on an unclaimed capital credits list?

The last time we attempted to send a capital credits check, the United States Postal Service returned your check as "undeliverable." A forwarding address was not provided to Carroll Electric or the postal service, making it impossible for us to forward the check to your new address.

My deceased parent is on this list. Am I entitled to their capital credits?

Possibly, but we need to talk to the executor of his or her estate. We must have documentation and verification from the executor to proceed with capital credits refunds.

My neighbor is on this list. Can I claim their capital credits for them?

No. You cannot claim capital credits for another person. Capital credits must be claimed by the person listed. Or, in the case of a deceased person, capital credits may be claimed by the executor of the person's estate. If the person is living, and you know how to contact them, please encourage them to call Carroll Electric at 1-800-232-7697.

When I call the office, will you tell me how much money I'll receive?

We'll need to research the account(s) and get back to you with an amount.* Our computer system generates capital credits for every year you were a member of Carroll Electric. We're currently working to provide unclaimed capital credits for an eight-year period. We will take a look at each of those eight years before we provide a total, taking care to make sure you didn't have multiple accounts in your name during that period.

Please be aware that Carroll Electric does not send capital credits checks for $5 or less, so there is the chance that your unclaimed capital credits balance is a small amount.

You'll receive the capital credits that you are entitled to. Uncollectable accounts — accounts that were left with a balance — will be paid before capital credits checks are mailed.*

How long will it take to get my money?

Unclaimed capital credits may take 6 to 8 weeks to research and process before you receive a check.

What do I need to provide to claim capital credits?

1. The last four digits of your SSN

Your SSN was required when you signed up for electric service with Carroll Electric. It is a part of how we identify the account(s) you have held with Carroll Electric. Since there are many people with the same name, it helps to ensure that we are providing capital credits to the correct individual.

2. Your current mailing address

Unclaimed capital credits will be provided to you via check sent through the mail.

How long do I have to claim unclaimed capital credits?

Carroll Electric will redistribute unclaimed capital credits 60 days after the second notice appears in Ohio Cooperative Living magazine, or 60 days following the date of the cooperative's notice by mail (whichever occurs later). The second notice will appear in the January magazine. You have until March 1 to call Carroll Electric to claim capital credits.
